Message from the Head of School

Welcome to Alston Montessori! Whether your student is returning for another year or is joining our community for the first time, I hope that the information contained in this booklet will help make enrollment easy to understand and answer all of your questions.

Here is some important information about the enrollment process:

- Returning families: The Priority Enrollment deadline for returning families is Friday, February 7, 2020 to take advantage of a discounted application fee of $500.00.
- New Families: Applications are accepted anytime and interviews for new students will be scheduled when paperwork is complete (see page 2 for the list of required forms). Notification of acceptance will be made after February 7, 2020.
- Easy to understand payment options. The chart on page 4 shows what each payment will be depending on the payment option chosen.
- School Calendar highlights. To assist in planning for vacations while we are not in session, we have listed the major breaks for the 2020-2021 school year on page 5.

We look forward to partnering together for your student's education. Please don't hesitate to reach out and contact me anytime you have a question, concern, or just want to talk about the school or your child.

Montessori Philosophy

Dr. Maria Montessori saw the need for a radical change in secondary education as early as the 1920s. She identified the physical, emotional and cognitive changes of adolescence as a time of great turmoil and was concerned that the traditionally rigid educational practices could be detrimental to students.

In Montessori's view, a student confined to a desk being forced to study subjects that hold little interest for him or her is apt to rebel or shut down. Her other concern was that the world and technology were moving at a pace far exceeding society's ability to keep pace. She believed that while there had been great leaps forward in science and technology, education had remained stagnant; students were taught subjects with little relevance to the modern world. The goal of her adolescent program was to produce adults who are equipped with the confidence in themselves and actual skills to live in the real world.

Dr. Montessori's vision for the adolescent was a farm school. The students would learn practical skills in horticulture and animal husbandry. They would be self-sufficient, selling their surplus and attaining financial independence. They would also run a guest house where parents could come to visit. Their work would be real and meaningful; they would have a connection to the earth and an understanding of the interconnectedness of all things. There would be academic classes, of course, such as math and language, but the bulk of the day would be spent on the land-learning skills from experts. The experts, while teaching practical skills, would also teach the History of Human Progress, the contributions of previous generations. In Montessori's view, a three-year farm experience would yield a confident, independent, balanced and focused individual ready for the next educational step: the university.

At Alston, our goals are to prepare the students for their next educational step and to provide the students with the practical skills to be successful in the real world. Though we are not a farm school, we do provide our students with a connection to the land with our garden and chicken projects. We strive to create a dynamic and high interest hands-on experiential curriculum to allow the students to develop practical skills pertinent to the 21st century.

Withdrawal Notice

Enrollment space at Alson is limited and we often turn students away. Due to our unique nature, we do not add students mid-year. Therefore, when you commit to enrolling your student at Alson, you are committing to paying a full year of tuition and fees. Parents who voluntarily remove their student from the school are responsible for the entire year's tuition and fees. Exceptions may be made in the case of moving out of the area (defined as over 30 miles from Alson), or if the student is asked to leave by the administration, or at the discretion of the Head of School.

Parents who enroll a student beginning in 8th (eighth) grade are committing to keeping their student enrolled for a total of two (2) years and could; therefore, be responsible for two years of tuition.

Alson Montessori reserves the right to terminate the enrollment of any student who, in our sole judgment, is not benefiting from the program; for unacceptable conduct, such as disruptive, uncooperative or disrespectful behavior; or for excessive absenteeism or tardiness. If the School terminates enrollment, tuition is prorated through the last day of attendance.
